9	that, despite the promise to freeze, the	9	eligible for REA under Ontario's legal framework,
10	representations made before the Windstream I	10	and that you can still, in terms of the 11	Tribunal and the Tribunal's finding of legal and	11	application for grid access that we also heard
12	contractual limbo, Ontario then took no steps to	12	about, you can still go on the website and see the

16	Mr. Teliszewsky on this.	16	Second, Ontario decided, we
17	Made the deliberate decision	17	say reflexively and immediately, that it would not
18	not to act. And we say that led to the	18	act to remedy the legal and contractual limbo post
19	termination of the FIT contract and it's provided	19	award.
20	no legitimate rationale for its failure to do so,	20	It did so and this is,
21	as well as the failure to carry out the research	21	again, the evidence of Mr. Teliszewsky without
22	that it stated it was going to do.	22	any meetings or discussions about its commitment
23	In terms of some of these	23	to Windstream or if the circumstances warranted
24	this conduct, one, Ontario never clarified the	24	its involvement. It also stopped doing any 25	situation after the award. It maintained the FIT	25	research in respect of the moratorium.

8	other proponents, FIT contracts and PPAs. And you	8	had no obligation to renegotiate the contract. It
9	will recall the evidence of Michael Lyle on that.	9	was just an option.
10	It had been done more than 100 times in the	10	But we say Ontario had an 11	TransCanada case.	11	obligation which arises from fair and equitable
12	And, fourth, the IESO	12	treatment. They had that international
13	exercised the termination right relying on delay	13	obligation, that NAFTA obligation to treat
14	and conduct by the Ontario government as part of	14	Windstream fairly. And that's what gets you to
15	its reasons, including the lack of direction from	15	the obligation, we say, to unblock the contract
16	Ontario.	16	and allow Windstream to create value.
17	So we rely on those facts, and	17	The damages for the FET
18	Ms. Sherkey will be going into more detail, to	18	violation here, as we say, we submit that the 19	make out our argument about unfair and inequitable	19	damages are to make the Claimant whole with the

10	different.	10	In this case, there was no
11	In that case, the alleged	11	link. The 2009 measures had to do with strict 12	breach and this is what's interesting about	12	limitations on exporting gold, increased in 13	Rusoro and Bilcon, unlike our case, we say.	13	exchange control requirements, and this,
14	The alleged breach straddled	14	ultimately, leads, in 2011, to the 18	sides of the cut-off date.	18	are all separate measures with separate issues.

19	But they said that's okay.	19	So, at paragraph 321, with the key point:
20	Because this is a composite claim and, so, it	20	"In the specific 21	really didn't crystallize until we were on the	21	circumstances of this

2	Not individual measures.	2	an international violation? To take the words
3	Individual breaches.	3	from Infinito.
4	And then it looked at the 2009	4	Applying the Infinito

9	of the gold industry violated the NAFTA, that's in	9	termination of the FIT contract. Nothing was 10	time. That's a separate breach.	10	taken prior to this date.
11	And, in this case, unlike	11	Facts were not capable of 12	Rusoro and Bilcon, we are not alleging pre cutoff	12	triggering a violation. In fact, we would have
13	measures. There are pre cutoff facts.	13	been in the same place as we were in Windstream
14	But we are not saying that the	14	I if we brought an expropriation claim before
15	alleged breach happened at multiple points of	15	the FIT contract was terminated.

19	And that's what I am going to	19	invalidated. The FIT contract was not gone until 20	turn to now.	20	it was gone.
21	So, if we flip over to Slide	21	And the breach of FET is
22	15, this deals with the other part of your	22	similar. The breach is the termination of the FIT
23	question: What is the knowledge of the alleged	23	contract. The measures, we say, are why Ontario

$ \begin{array}{c} 1\\2\\3\\4\\5\\6\\7\\8\\9\\10\\11\\12\\13\\14\\15\\16\\17\\18\\19\\20\end{array} $	negotiate. And what if they said, at that point, and we are never negotiating with you? Doesn't your claim arise instantly sort of then? You may not know the extent of your damage. I get that. But help us understand that. That's where, I think, where we are struggling with on that. MS. SHERKEY: Thank you, Professor Gotanda. I think there's a factual and legal element to answering that. The first is, on the factual side, the failure to clarify the situation, post award. And the Claimant immediately reaches out. We will talk about this in FET. The Claimant immediately reaches out to the government. We want to meet. We want to meet. We want to meet. And the	$ \begin{array}{c} 1\\2\\3\\4\\5\\6\\7\\8\\9\\10\\11\\12\\13\\14\\15\\16\\17\\18\\19\\20\end{array} $	no one is proceeding on the basis that this project can't proceed. That's no one's understanding. That's never clarified. And so Windstream goes to deal with the IESO. Certainly, the government does not involve itself. That's a huge basis of this claim. But the IESO's also saying it's not going to exercise its termination rights. And, until it does, they have the Ontario action. They may see results there in the injunction. They haven't actually lost that creation of value, that ability to renegotiate until the IESO makes its decision to terminate. So they know it's possible. They know the factual predicates the government is refusing to involve itself. It doesn't clarify the situation. But it's refusing to involve itself.
20	government says no, go to the IESO.	20	But, until the FIT contract is 21	They don't say, no, you have	21	terminated, the actual failure to renegotiate and

They talk about the failure to direct the OPA but they make a finding on that. And they also make specific factual findings as to what happened in the negotiations. I laid those out in my opening. PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES: Is abandonment the same thing as asking for the moon? MS. SHERKEY: No. PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES: No. Okay. MS. But just flagging there is a point there. So what I would like to address is Canada's arguments on issue estoppel. And, as I went through their opening and, again, through their written materials, we have characterized this, brought this down to five issues. And number one, to me, is really the nub of it. This full compensation issue. And I think this circles on to everything we have been talking about this morning, which is Canada argues there's no further value here. You have been fully compensated. The project was found to have or the FIT contract was found to have no value. The Tribunal compensated you on that basis. So you're barred from arguing there is any further loss. We have highlighted here what 21 22 23 24 25	this is a further enhancement an addition to what they said in their counter-memorial. And we also have an issue estoppel argument as it relates to the test on expropriation. And this deals with the Annex 14B	21 22 23 24 25	We have highlighted here what the Tribunal found. And, again, it comes back to that line at the end and what our claim is, which is that there was additional value that could be created that was not because the FIT contract

You did say we all know what the International Valuations Standards say about confidentiality. I don't know what they say about confidentiality. I didn't know they said anything about it.

MS. SHERKEY: I might have misspoken. This is where I am not the damages person. I was thinking hindsight there --

13	about the incurring of those costs from the day of	13	morning. The first time was when you said your
14	the hearing versus the date of the award.	14	primary damages case is comparables, not DCF. I
15	So I will deal with that now,	15	now understand that to be your position.
16	if that's okay.	16	But are you saying that's
17	CO-ARBITRATOR MCLACHLIN: How	17	still not the case on expropriation? Your primary 18	do you link the expenditures to the creation of	18	damages methodology for expropriation is the

21	MR. TERRY: Yeah. We rely in	21	MR. TERRY: The issue and,
22	this on Secretariat's report where they include	22	frankly, to be completely candid, I would be

4	value that was identified by the Tribunal, the	4	what you spent. So if you lose a house, what did
5	additional value that could be created, we say	5	you pay for the house.
6	there was an obligation to work to create that.	6	Then there is market
7	In the context of an	7	comparables.
8	expropriation, the question is, at the date of	8	And then there is discounted
9	breach, what was what was the value that was	9	cash flow or there is income assessment which

15	We do have one Slide also on	15	But that flexibility,
16	112, but this is just people will be familiar	16	reasonability, understanding that it requires
17	with this, these provisions.	17	entails conjecture is accepted in the 18	These are the familiar	18	jurisprudence when valuators, such as Secretariat,
19	provisions in Article 1110 about unlawfulness and	19	go about determining their valuation in the 20	we have the argument there as to why the	20	but-for world.
21	expropriation is unlawful in this case.	21	And, sorry, that's at Slide
22	Of course, just the very fact	22	117, the next slide over.
23	that compensation is not paid is, on its own,	23	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:
24	enough to make it unlawful.	24	Let me ask my question.
25	If we can go, then, to damages	25	You might be answering it and

1	I might be jumping ahead.	1	MR. TERRY: In terms of fair
2	But I understand that the	2	and equitable treatment, I think you have heard it
3	but-for process, which we primarily use when we	3	already from Ms. Sherkey in fair and equitable
4	are applying DCF or market comparables, is to put	4	treatment.
5	you in the position had the breach not occurred,	5	Our argument is that the 6	or make you whole.	6	breach, in this particular case and, please,
7	And that is the quantification	7	forgive me if I am using looser language than 8	exercise, so what's the differential between the	8	Ms. Sherkey was using.
9	actual world and the but-for world.	9	But the particular breach, in 10	That's the damages folks' job.	10	this case, is the failure of the Ontario
11	MR. TERRY: Yes.	11	government to intervene or to take steps in the 12	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:	12	way we have described, to cause the IESO to 13	The legal job is did the alleged breach cause that	13	renegotiate the contract, the FIT contract in this
14	loss that the damages experts have valued.	14	particular case and allow the project to proceed.
15	And so the existence of a	15	And this is and our
16	but-for and a differential is not the answer to	16	argument, of course, as you have heard more
17	causation; right? There's a step you need to	17	eloquently from Ms. Sherkey, is that that's in
18	establish, as a matter of law, in the middle.	18	accordance with the commitment that had been made
19	MR. TERRY: Correct.	19	by Ontario. And Ms. Sherkey read you the 20	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:	20	particular transcript, the commitment to while
21	And that's what you are going to do.	21	all other offshore wind projects were not being
22	MR. TERRY: Yeah, I will speak	22	allowed to go ahead, the Windstream I was being
23	to that now.	23	allowed to go ahead.
24	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:	24	CO-ARBITRATOR MCLACHLIN:
25	Okay. Great.	25	That's a breach so we have got to get to the

1	connection. We are talking about the connection	1	direct the IESO to uphold the commitment.
2	here.	2	So we say, in that causation,
3	MR. TERRY: Yes. So that's	3	it's very direct. The IESO is being told to do
4	the breach.	4	something by the government.
5	And the connection is that,	5	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:
6	that particular breach, because the IESO was not	6	Mr. Neufeld, just when your team gets to it. It
7	directed by Ontario and Ms. Sherkey went	7	would be interesting to understand, as at now, in
8	through all the ways in which the IESO can be	8	closing, if that's in dispute, if we were to find
9	directed, both formal and informal, to take those	9	that the failure of Canada to intervene and direct
10	steps to renegotiate the contract. The contract	10	the IESO were a breach of FET, is causation, at 11	was then terminated because, of course, it had	11	that point, in issue?
12	come to the expiry date.	12	Ms. Squires, I should be
13	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES: I	13	talking to you.
14	think it's just made sense to me now.	14	I know, in your opening, you
15	So Canada, you say, breach of	15	spent an awful lot of time on Biwater Gauff and
16	FET, Canada's omitting to intervene, so it's a	16	you were, going to their point, there can't be
17	negative act, Canada's omission in intervening is	17	causation if there is no loss. I don't think
18	a breach. We need to decide whether or not that's	18	that's a universal view on all awards and 19	a breach.	19	certainly not in the dissent in that award.
20	If we decide there is a	20	But, leaving aside that
21	breach, your causation is, but-for their failure	21	argument which we will need to consider because
22	to intervene, the IESO would have done something	22	you've pleaded very eloquently on that. But, for 23	different?	23	that, is that causation actually in dispute.
24	MR. TERRY: Yes. And,	24	And, sorry, my penny is
25	specifically, the omission was the omission to	25	dropping a bit late on this point.
1	Perhaps that is why you	1	renegotiate or amend the FIT contract.

1	Perhaps that is why you	1	renegotiate or amend the FIT contract.
2	focused so much on Biwater Gauff. Because that	2	Secondly, the moratorium would
3	point really can't be disputed. It doesn't mean	3	have been lifted and we note that the a
4	their FET claim, necessarily, succeeds or gets	4	moratorium, just by its definition, is temporary
5	close to succeeding, there's still the breach	5	but it was always certainly advertised by Ontario,
6	needs to establish.	6	at the time, as being temporary. And, you know,
7	But, in that causation, had	7	there's lots of evidence in the record in both 8	the government intervened, would the IESO have	8	proceedings on that.
9	done what the government directed it to do.	9	The stated premise of the 10	MR. TERRY: Yes. That's	10	rationale was that it was temporary measure while 11	yeah. That's exactly right. That's the causation	11	the government conducted scientific research, as 12	link.	12	you have heard about.
13	So perhaps I will turn to the	13	And this was also canvassed
14	next slides which gets, as you say, to the	14	before Windstream I. So applying reasonable
15	experts' job of the but-for world. They are	15	assumptions in but-for, by definition, this
16	instructed to assume.	16	measure cannot last and must be lifted.
17	So there are some issues	17	Then, if we go to the next
18	raised which we are just responding to in the	18	slide, we had issues that were raised about 19	but-for context and explaining why well,	19	technical feasibility and whether or not the 20	explaining the support for these and for the	20	project would have been able to achieve commercial
21	counterfactual and the but-for world.	21	operation. This summarizes some of the relevant
22	First, the IESO would not have	22	evidence here.
23	had the ability to terminate the FIT contract.	23	There were questions, by the 24	And, again, if Ontario had upheld its commitments	24	way it's important to emphasize here that, at
25	to Windstream, it would have directed the IESO to	25	the previous hearing, Canada put forward its own

1	set of technical experts to match Windstream's	1	But would it have affected
2	technical experts.	2	if the price had been reduced, for example, what
3	That wasn't done in this	3	would it do to your comparables?
4	particular case and, of course, Canada didn't	4	MR. TERRY: Yeah, I think,
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 22	chose not to cross-examine Mr. Irvine, the primary technical expert for Windstream. And, in this particular case and so, you know, in our submission, the best evidence is the experts on this one. There were questions put to other experts to damages experts, for example, to get information with respect to these issues. But, if Canada had wanted to take these issues on squarely, in my submission, they had the opportunity to call these experts. CO-ARBITRATOR MCLACHLIN: Can I ask you a question that's been bothering me. Perhaps it shouldn't. But your case is that there should have been a renegotiation. Had there been, there would have been a lot of possibilities. One would have	5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	again, I hesitate because I am not an expert on this and I don't believe Secretariat gave evidence on that particular issue. But the assumption would, presumably, be that, if the tariff price would lower, the project value would be lower. I mean, that's my common sense approach. CO-ARBITRATOR MCLACHLIN: I just wondered if you had actually proved your case to the balance of probabilities on that question of what would have been renegotiated and how that would have affected damages. So, in that general sense, you say you have established, on a balance of probabilities, that the comparables or the DCF figures put forward would have been those that would have been achieved on a renegotiation? MR. TERRY: Well, what we have
23	been that the tariff price would have been	23	done with the experts and we certainly
24	changed, which may be a reason why you're not	24	considered and the experts have considered this
25	emphasizing the DCF at this point so much.	25	issue. Of course there's no, there's no

	5		5
1	particular evidence and it's difficult to make	1	to rely on the evidence, but we don't have that
2	assumptions about what would happen in any	2	particular evidence in front of you.
3	particular negotiation in the future.	3	CO-ARBITRATOR MCLACHLIN:
4	The experts have done	4	That's very helpful because I just wanted to know
5	sensitivity analysis with respect to certain	5	what we are working with here.
6	issues. They have given ranges of damages.	6	MR. TERRY: Sure.
7	You also, of course, have I	7	CO-ARBITRATOR MCLACHLIN:
8	will be getting to it but there's indicia of	8	Thank you.
9	other other indicia that's useful for	9	MR. TERRY: And we do, we have 10	comparables analysis.	10	actually put these references in in a different
11	So the answer is we don't have	11	context but we do refer, later on, at Slide 137,
12	and, of course, if the Tribunal directs the	12	to some examples of cases where Tribunals have, as 13	experts to do a sensitivity analysis on that, we	13	they are working their way through damages and
14	don't have that evidence right now with respect to	14	they decide they are taking a different path and
15	what would happen, what would be likely to happen	15	want more evidence, certainly Tribunals have
16	in any particular negotiation.	16	directed the parties to provide additional

18	provided with the experts and there's flexibility	18	I am not saying you should do
19	and sort of optionality that's provided.	19	that here. I am just using, providing examples
20	So, in that respect, I	20	where that's occurred.
21	don't again, Ms. Miles yesterday, mentioned a	21	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:
22	hospital pass. I mean, I appreciate, to some	22	Is the Econ One damages decision out? Or was that
23	extent, that we would be looking to the Tribunal	23	just the merits decision?
24	to use the evidence to if you were to go to	24	MR. TERRY: I believe I
25	make a determination of a breach and being do that	25	this is just from personal knowledge. I am not

4	MS. SHERKEY: I just did a	4	variables in his equation.
5	quick look at italaw and I only see the directions	5	So tariff price would not come
6	on quantum and I don't see a decision yet.	6	in. Secretariat disagree with that. And this is
7	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:	7	the discussion about the New York lease cases is
8	Yes, I don't think the decision is out yet.	8	much higher tariff price because they are attached
9	CO-ARBITRATOR GOTANDA: There	9	to those leases and they're outliers that 10	are cases and correct me if I am wrong on	10	Dr. Guillet chooses to exclude.
11	this in the record that don't have comparables	11	So we have that information so
12	that don't have an FIT contract.	12	Claimant says tariff price affects market
13	MR. TERRY: Yes, there are	13	comparables valuation. Respondent expert says it
14	certainly examples of those, yes.	14	doesn't. Everybody accepts tariff price has to 15	CO-ARBITRATOR GOTANDA: Yes.	15	impact a DCF because it's one of the main inputs
16	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:	16	into a DCF.
17	Just coming back to Justice McLachlin's question	17	So I think, unless someone
18	which I think puts the finger on the button.	18	corrects me in the course of today, there's the 19	So first on the as I	19	data we need is clear on that.
20	understand the parties' quantum experts,	20	What I wanted to come to,
21	Dr. Guillet says, in an early stage development,	21	relatedly, is the next step.
22	tariff price is irrelevant. He is pretty clear	22	If the breach is the omission
23	about that.	23	in intervening. And the loss is the loss of a
24	He says that it's the only	24	renegotiated, reactivated FIT. You would say
25	two factors are the price paid on the sale of an	25	and this is where we get to the overlapping but

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	the entirely different but-for purposes. The but-for on causation, the legal question, but-for the omission, there would have been a reactivated renegotiated contract, is your FET case. And then what the experts say is, in their but-for world, here is what that reactivated and renegotiated contract would have been worth, in a but-for world, less the real world. So they also use but-for but not in the legal sense.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	So wouldn't you say that, in the way they have modelled the quantum with the discounting optionality of either IRR or if we accepted the IRR were high enough or the haircut, that that accounts for impact that we may otherwise call break in the chain of causation. So you might have had a renegotiated contract but you were never going to get to full project, that you have already accounted for that risk if you might not get that. To put it another way, insofar as all a renegotiated reactivated contract gives
9	been worth, in a but-for world, less the real	9	get to full project, that you have already
12 13		12 13
14	they back that. They take Secretariat, certainly	14	discounting for that probability of succeeding in 15 16	on both well, on their DCF, for sure. They value the entire project. And then they discount	15 16	that chance is already in your damages model, you would say?
17	it in different ways, either using the IRR with	17	MR. TERRY: Yeah. And I
18 19	the structured transaction approach or they discount it with the haircut, with the	18 19	think, I mean, there is one thing also, of course, it's important to clarify here.
20	55-60 percent haircut.	20	If you look at what the 21 22	And that's where they take whole lifetime value of this project back to what	21 22	commitment that was made by the government to Windstream was to keep the project whole, so to
23	you're actually saying you lost here, which is not	23	allow it to proceed once the moratorium was done,
24 25	a whole contract but a reactivated and renegotiated contract.	24 25	the science had been done. So, yes, we do say they should

1	have directed the IESO to renegotiate and	1	certain issues that have been raised.
2	reactivate the contract.	2	But, and I look at my
3	But our case, I mean, at its	3	colleagues and experts in the back to confirm that
4	highest, in this respect, is that keep whole means	4	I am not misstating anything here.
5	maintain the same tariff price, maintain the same	5	But Secretariat has not, has 6	contractual provisions.	6	not done an analysis that tries to, for example,
7	Now, if you understand what I	7	to look at the various ways in which a contract
8	am saying there.	8	might be negotiated and the various sensitivities
9	So, you know, that is,	9	that arise on that.
10	essentially, I think the starting point for the	10	And that's, that's, I guess,
11	Secretariat model.	11	where I point to some of the case law, if the 12	Certainly, it's the	12	Tribunal wants to have more work done in that 13	proposition that Justice McLachlin has put forward	13	particular area that you can use in terms of your
14	that, instead of the government making it whole,	14	deliberations, there are precedents for doing
15	that what might happen instead, in the but-for	15	that.
16	world, is a renegotiated contract and some change	16	CO-ARBITRATOR MCLACHLIN:
17	in the tariff price or other provisions in the	17	Thank you.
18	contract is certainly, you know, it's certainly	18	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES: I
19	within the realm of what could occur.	19	think what I was just trying to get to was because 20	Secretariat has done its	20	of the discounting, whichever approach you take,
21	discounting and its analysis on the basis of the	21	the evidentiary burden is not quite so high that
22	project had been kept whole.	22	the Claimant need show there would never be any
23	I think they have described,	23	regulatory impediment ever on this project. There
24	in their report and in their evidence, the very	24	would never ever be a technical issue or a
25	sensitivity analysis they have done in response to	25	construction issue on this project.

1	That's all the risk that's	1	And just, you heard yesterday
2	built in in that haircut or in their IRR. The	2	from Dr. Guillet he would not describe himself as
3	reason why an investor would expect a much higher	3	a technical expert. And so there's no technical
4	IRR much earlier in the project is because all	4	expert that's been brought in to rebut or respond
5	that uncertainty is still out there.	5	to what Wood and Two Dogs say.
6	And unless there were, you	6	And, and we have also the 7	know, a complete guillotine drop of, you know, you	7	evidence, the regulatory evidence, again, from
8	just can't build windmills this big or this small,	8	Sarah Powell who testified in the last proceeding
9	then that risk is what you say you factored in.	9	and provided witness statement in this proceeding,
10	And the question for us, if we	10	about the permitting requirements here and her
11	ever were to get there, is have you factored in	11	conclusion that it was commercially reasonable for 12	enough risk. But that's not a causation point.	12	a developer with a FIT contract to assume it would
13	That's a valuation point.	13	obtain AOR status in due course.
14	MR. TERRY: Exactly, yes. I	14	With respect to the AOR status
15	would agree.	15	also, go to Slide 120.
16	I was on Slide 119 and I don't	16	And I referred to this in 17	need to spend a lot of time on this one.	17	opening so I will be brief here.
18	But if I could stay on Slide	18	But we included some further
19	119, briefly.	19	references here and some excerpts from the 20	Is just that we do have the	20	Tribunal's decision just to make the point that
21	evidence about technical feasibility that comes	21	the site release issues and the AOR release
22	from the experts, Wood and Two Dogs, that the	22	issues, in our submission and my submissions, it
23	principal who is at Wood is now at Two Dogs.	23	was considered this way by the Windstream
24	That's why you see it's a different company name	24	Tribunal, were really part and parcel of the

2	with there.	2	submission, properly applying valuation standards,
3	So it's reasonable, in our	3	choosing an appropriate period for comparables,
4	submission, for the experts to assume that, in	4	making, we would say, that the proper
5	addition to the moratorium being lifted, if it	5	determinations about hindsight and valuation
6	were to be lifted, then the AOR site release	6	analysis that you can't be using hindsight, which,
7	issues would also be clarified by the government	7	we would say, is well established by law and by

2	The key point I would focus	2	accept this sort of information and you heard what
3	on, though, is that those three confidential data	3	the standards were with respect to that issue,
4	points that were relied on by the previous	4	that information that Ms. Sherkey put forward.
5	Tribunal, there is another basis for excluding	5	I mean another factor to 6	them here completely. So I don't think you have	6	consider, in this particular case, is that the
7	to deal with that particular issue.	7	acceptance of the confidential information, I
8	And	8	would submit, is bound up in the Tribunal's
9	CO-ARBITRATOR GOTANDA: I am	9	assessment that there were reliability of the 11	If these are do you have a	11	sure that I am but, I mean, our submission on this

12	causation problem with respect to the cost claimed	12	is that these are project-related costs that have 13	for the interest earned and interest paid?	13	to be incurred.
14	Because, if I understand	14	CO-ARBITRATOR GOTANDA:
15	and here is where you are going to have to help	15	Absolutely. And, actually, everyone agrees with 11	So what loss would arise out	11	costs.

12	of that.	12	Even leaving that aside,
13	And I think two questions come	13	though, when we look at the loss that would arise
14	up here.	14	out of that, I do want to take just a brief side
15	The first goes to a question	15	track to discuss quantum.
16	that Professor Gotanda asked.	16	And what the scenario would
17	So you can see on the slide	17	lead us to with respect to quantum.
18	here that, in our view, the loss that arises here	18	And we are going to keep the 19	would be the cost to the Claimant to maintain its	19	same Exhibit C-2082 up because it is the only
20	letter of credit for an extra two years and nine	20	exhibit we have that demonstrates the interest

22	This morning, Professor	22	You can see on the slide there
23	Gotanda asked about Windstream maintaining the	23	that we will highlight for you, interest payments,
24	second letter of credit and how that pertains to	24	which, as we have corrected on the record, were
25	the issue of causation.	25	actually a fee and not interest at all.

1	So Windstream made these	1	back.
2	fees made paid these fees with respect to	2	There are no interest payments
3	its first $6 million letter of credit and these	3	on this ledger between May 8th, 2017, and the date

5	So just four and you can	5	The Claimant has not

And I think there's a very much an evidentiary question that would need to be addressed there as well. CO-ARBITRATOR GOTANDA: Okay. That may be. But, thank you. MS. SQUIRES: I am with you. CO-ARBITRATOR GOTANDA: Yeah. Thank you. MS. SQUIRES: So that brings me to Question 5 and that's the question on loss.	$ \begin{array}{c} 2\\ 3\\ 4\\ 5\\ 6\\ 7\\ 8\\ 9\\ 10\\ 11\\ 12\\ 13\\ 14\\ 15\\ 16\\ 17\\ 18\\ 19\\ 20\\ 21\\ 22\\ \end{array} $	And the Tribunal has asked us on what basis is each party claiming appreciation, or lack of, between the date of the first Award and the valuation date. And, in addition to that, on what date was the Claimant made whole by the first Award. So I am going to start with a question of what date was the Claimant made whole. In the Windstream I Award, at paragraph 484, we can see that the Tribunal held that, in their view, the proper date of quantification of the damages to the investment was the date of the Award. In their view, it was on that date that damages to the Claimant's investment crystallized. And, because of that, we say that the Claimant was made whole as of the date of the award. Now, assuming we are starting from zero or the position where the Claimant was made whole by the Windstream I Award, the Tribunal

18	the contractual counterparty.	18	almost makes your position worse; doesn't it?
19	The same message was repeated	19	MS. DOSMAN: Does it? How so?
20	in writing in two letters from the Ministry of	20	CO-ARBITRATOR GOTANDA:

21	relationship.	21	Yeah.
22	Instead, the message was go	22	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:
23	back to your contract. Go back to your contract.	23	So I think "Parties" is defined in the contract
24	I see a furrowed brow.	24	or memo. Let's have a look.
25	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:	25	MS. DOSMAN: I am sure it is.

I think what both parties have 7 7 So it would take a word search sought to do today is separate out IESO had the 8 8 to see how proper noun parties is used in the contracting obligation. They had to dot the I and Award. But then they say it's another matter that 9 9 cross the Ps and sign -- cross the Ts and sign the 10 10 the Parties -- again, capital P -- can create such piece of paper in the contract themselves. 11 11 But the IESO could have been value. 12 12 It doesn't, it doesn't -- so directed on what to contract, how to contract, 13 would you say that paragraph 438 could be read or, 13 whether or not to renegotiate, reactivate, what to 14 in your submissions, should be read that that 14 put in the terms of that contract, at all times by 15 15 proper noun, Parties, is the Parties to the Ontario. 16 16 contract. So Ontario had the control 17 17 over the contract, although the operationalization MS. Continued application of the moratorium is not presented as a ground fact. Nor is a failure to direct the IESO, not to terminate or to freeze the FIT Contract. These are the measures that the Claimant challenges. Even it's the essence of its claim. They are not background facts. PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES: But, just be absolutely clear, and you have said it. If we were to consider they are background facts in the way being put by the Claimant, you would accept that they are within the time-bar? MR. But and I was asking you if we found these were background facts that were part of the breach, are we not precluded? I am confused. I am sorry, what do you say Glamis Gold says? MR. TIAN: It says the background facts are not per se the legal basis for the claim. And, as we understand it, it refers to when they are background facts. That would not be part of a legal basis. Therefore, the Tribunal would only look at the legal basis of a cause of action that are not those background facts. PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES: If the Tribunal finds that background facts are

So if, at some point here, a cause of action arises, then we apply the limitation period, but not before. MR. TIAN: As Canada has understand the essence of the Claimant's case, the cause of action remains with Ontario's measures. Therefore, we are going to look at Ontario's measures to determine when the cause of action arose. PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES: This does feel very similar to your opening. You have taken us through those dates. I don't think it's in disputes what dates A, B, C, D occurred. It's E and F and failure to amend after the Award that postdate and that fall within the three-year period	$ \begin{array}{c} 1\\2\\3\\4\\5\\6\\7\\8\\9\\10\\11\\12\\13\\14\\15\\16\\17\end{array} $	The question for us is when do we find the cause of action to have arisen and for the Claimant to have knowledge, possibly constructive knowledge of the cause of action and the loss arising out of that cause of action, and whether they are background fact or measures. The date is not in dispute. We know what dates they were. So we know what we have to do, as a matter of law, to claw back things that predate three years of the notice of intention. So you don't need to go back through your opening submissions again on that. MR. TIAN: So just one point on that. Our position is that measure F, the very last one, is also time-barred.

12	Now back to our nits in	12	And given that's all the Award

13	can't have conduct that's arbitrary, grossly	13	quotes?
14	unfair.	14	MS. SHERKEY: No.
15	So what does arbitrary mean?	15	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:
16	That's what we are interpreting. We are not now	16	Oh, okay.

11	PRESIDING ARBITRATOR MILES:	11	20.3(j). The 20.3(j) must be wrong.
12	Right. Okay.	12	On the 30.7, to start, you

22	And I would submit that's not	22	MS. SHERKEY: I think it might
23	right.	23	be in a different section. There are two 20.3s.
24	I'll refer you back to Slide 9	24	If it makes sense, Mr. Terry
